

The Voice of Students on Health/Science Careers

The Classroom

High School students feel their science studies will be “extremely or very important” to their future career pursuits

High School students in Science/Health classes say they have considered pursuing a Health Career (54% Yes/19% Maybe)

Gender Breakout

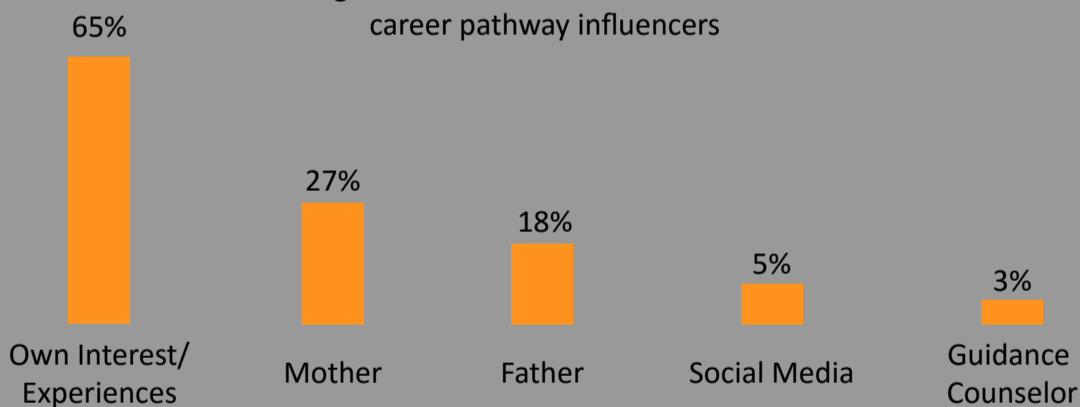

65% of females in Science/Health classes said “yes” to considering a health career

35% of males in Science/Health classes said “yes” to considering a health career

Influencers

High School students on their future career pathway influencers

The Research Consortium on Health/Science Career Pathways

Visit the Student Research Foundation for a related, student-focused research clearinghouse, with relevant information about career, academic, and life pathways. The Student Research Foundation collaborates with the Research Consortium on Health/Science Career Pathways and others to provide the community with the most current information.

